

Local Places of Interest

The South West coastal path

- Stunning coastal scenery leading to magnificent beaches and secret coves.

Land's End

- One of the most important and best-loved landmarks in Britain.

Sennen Cove

- A surfers' paradise with beachside cafés.

Botallack

- See the Crowns Mine engine house perched just above the Atlantic waves, the upper shaft of which extended 2,000 feet under the sea. 'Nanpara', the farmhouse used in the Poldark series, is also at Botallack.

Minack Theatre

- World-famous open-air theatre - spectacular clifftop location, stunning views.

St Ives

- The most famous of Cornish holiday towns with its many bars and restaurants and maze of narrow streets and alleyways.

Tate St Ives

- Located in the beautiful harbour town.

Porthcurno

- Very pretty beach with fine white sand formed from ground sea shells and home to the Minack Theatre and Telegraph Museum.

Geevor Tin Mine

- Discover Cornwall's mining heritage at this excellent museum.

Isles of Scilly

- A haven for unusual flora and fauna - many visitors enjoy a day trip.

Mousehole

- One of Cornwall's most charismatic fishing villages.

St Michael's Mount

- A picturesque harbour and a spectacular castle, complete with majestic gardens. Access is on foot across the causeway at low tide, or by short ferry crossing at high tide.

St Just

- Few towns have retained their character like the first and last town in England and the mining centre of the peninsula.

Location

Trevaylor is set in an area of outstanding natural beauty on the west coast of Cornwall, on the B3306 Land's End to St Ives scenic coast road, approximately one mile north of St Just.

Caravan and Camping Park

• Trevaylor Caravan and Camping Park is a family-run site set on the west coast of Cornwall at St Just, close to Land's End, Penzance and St Ives.

We cater for caravans, motorhomes and tents. We also offer luxury, self-catering caravans - all within a conservation area only 500m from the spectacularly rugged cliffs at Botallack and the West Cornwall coastal path.

Many of Cornwall's historic tin mines, including the Crowns Mine, are within walking distance, and the golden sands of Sennen Cove are a few minutes away by car.

The western tip of Cornwall and its breathtaking scenery offers an aura of peace and tranquillity that is hard to find nowadays, yet excitement and entertainment can be found nearby for those who seek it.

The Park

- Only 500m from spectacularly rugged cliffs and the West Cornwall coastal path.
- Sheltered by hedges and trees.
- Level, well-drained pitches.
- Five separate enclosures giving plenty of space for families or groups to be together.
- Electric hookups available.
- Wireless internet access.
- Climbing parties, outdoor pursuit groups and rallies all welcome.
- Children's play area.
- Onsite shop stocking general provisions, sweets, bottled gas and hot pasties fresh from the bakery.
- Free mobile phone charging/freezer blocks - donations to Cornwall Air Ambulance.
- For outdoor pursuits we sell climbing equipment and guides.
- Quiet, welcoming bar serving a selection of real Cornish ales and good food made from local produce.
- Laundry room.
- Dog friendly.
- The scenic open-top bus service between St Ives and Penzance stops outside the campsite.

Holiday Homes

- New in 2009 and 2010.
- Choice of 2 or 3 bedrooms (4 or 6 berth).
- Located in a separate enclosure from the touring site and surrounded by mature hedges and trees.
